

Hey, Babygirl

Thil hnilh duh che ka nei a, min lo chhaz sak thei angem? Ka sawi tun te chu ka phone ah ka type chhuak vek na a, kut ziak
ngêi hian hnilh che ila Romantic deuh jawk ang ka tia 😊. Mizo tawngin ziak chhuak vek duh mah ila, ka sawi duh tak ka sawi chuah ka ring si lora, sâp tawngin l chhian a ngai leh phot mai dawn anih hi....
😊. Nguz takin min lo chhian sak dawnnia.

My Love. Mi Cielo.

How do I ever begin to describe all the things I wish to say to you. I have so many things to say, so many feelings to express that I fear words alone are not enough; but I shall try my best to write them out for you. Ever since you came crashing into my life, my whole world has greatly changed for the better, like my world suddenly became brighter. Before I met you, I was just going through the motions, breathing but not really living. Then I saw you, you in your white dress shirt, much taller than I thought you would be, but even so so beautiful. From the moment I saw your photo, something deep inside of me wanted to get to know you, to know everything about you; what makes you smile, what makes you cry, and whatever you were willing to share with me. And a huge part of me wished you would choose to be friends with me. That day we followed each other during DAIBS, the moment we finish each other's sentences, the very stupid advice we gave that newly wedded wife, that's the moment I knew my life would never be the same. From that moment on, I yearn to be with you and I could never be happy nor fulfilled without your presence near me. The days you stayed back in the lab, I could not be fully happy, I felt as if a part of me was missing and no matter how far and wide I searched I could never find that missing piece till I saw you again. But on the days you came along, I felt fulfilled and satisfied, happier than I have ever felt before in my life. I know I keep telling you that I first fell for you in Lunglei, but the truth is I fell so much sooner than that, maybe even from the moment we first met. I am someone who always second-guess myself, but with you I never even for a moment second-guessed my feelings for you. But a huge part of me was scared of the intensity of my own feelings having never felt them that intense ever. A part of me was also scared that if I went through with my feelings, I would lose you. So, I selfishly decided that I would rather be your friend forever than not even be in your life. But the thought of you with someone else broke my heart even though you weren't even mine to keep at that time. I never even once considered at that time that you might possibly like me back the way I liked you even though there were signs. I am not very good at noticing other people's feelings as you have experienced.

The day I realised you liked me back the way I have always liked you was the happiest day of my life. Some days I find myself wondering what would have happened if I wasn't so scared to make the first move, but I am a firm believer that things happen at the right time they should and that our relationship progressed at the exact right moment. I know sometimes I test your patience, and I stress you out. I have my insecurities, but I am trying to be better for you and to love you better in all the ways I can. I won't say I am trying my best because 'Best' means there is no more room for improvement and I want to improve always and forever. I love you Babygirl, now and always. I will love you till the day I take my last breathe and I will always be there for you in whatever way you wish me to be.

Yours Forever.

Signed with love.